
Champion Office Suites expands in Garden City

by John Callegari
Long Island Business News

4:19 pm Mon, February 4, 2013

Champion Office Suites has taken space at 1325 Franklin Ave. in Garden City, adjacent to the building housing its headquarters.

The new space, 5,600 square feet that formerly belonged to a law firm, will give the virtual office and professional business services firm more office space to rent to clients on a month-to-month basis. It has 13 offices and four work stations, making it slightly larger than the company's current space, which is completely rented out. New tenants will be able to rent space in the building and share two conference rooms.

Companies and individuals that take space with Champion Office Suites also get mail forwarding, phone and voicemail, virtual assistant services and video conferencing.

Champion Office Suites President Roger Kahn said he expects the new space to be completely occupied over the next year. Kahn said he has no plans to purchase additional space at this time.